THE WEEK AT THE OPERA.

Wagner's "Siegfried" will be added to the current list at the Metropolitan Opera House this week, its first representation taking place on Friday evening. This was the most popular opera brought forward last season. "Die Goettendammerung" drew a more numerous average attendance, but had only seven representative of the season. It was heard resontations to "Siegfried's" eleven. It was heard by 27,827 people between November 9 and the close of the season, and brought $37,124 50 into the treasmry of the institution, and the average receipts would doubtless have been larger if the season had been longer, for the opera grew steadily in popularity. In it Mr. Alvary achieved his greatest success, his impernation of the here being admirable from every point of view. There is no reason why the represents this year should not be equally delightful, for Mr. Alvary is here to resume his old part, while Madame Moran-Olden will doubtless make a grand Bruennhilde. Herr Sedimayer is a clever actor and promises a good Mime, Herr Fischer will again impersonate wotan, while Fraeulein Traubmann will sing the music of the bird. Fraeulein Reil will enact the part of Erda, and Herr Beck that of Albertch. We look forward to a most effective and satisfying revival of Wagner's well-to-grant will be supported to a most effective and satisfying revival of Wagner's well-to-grant will be supported to a most effective and satisfying revival of Wagner's well-to-grant will be supported to a most effective and satisfying revival of Wagner's well-to-grant will be supported to a most effective and satisfying revival of Wagner's well-to-grant will be supported to a most effective and satisfying revival of wagner's most effective wagner's most effective and wagner's most effective wagner wa

The remaining three performances will be devoted to the three French works which have been successfully launched thus far this season; "Les Huguenots" on Monday, "L' Africaine" on Wednesday and "Faust" on Saturday afternoon.

MUSICAL NOTES.

The boycott of the German Cartellverband keeps Madame Lilli Lehmann silent in Germany, but not her husband. Herr Kalisch has been singing the part of Raoul in Haile, with "unparalleled success." Thus the Leipsic "Tageblatt." Husband and wife will be here early in 1889, the former to sing at six of the centerts of the Boston Symphony Society in various cities, the latter to resume her place in the Metropolitan Opera Company.

Mr. Charles B. Rutenber, organist of the Second Collegiate Reformed Church, at Lenox-ave. and One-hundred-and-twenty-third-st., has composed a cantata, entitled "Josus of Nazareth." which will be performed at the Christmas service next Sunday evening.

The Thomas concerts at Chickering Hall will number ten. Four will be given on the evenings of Jannary 8, February 5, March 5 and 28; six on the after-noons of January 17 and 24, February 7 and 14, March 14 and April 4. A committee of women has taken the enterprise in hand, and the subscription books will soon be opened.

The New-York Trio Club, which is composed of Mme. Eugenie de Roode, planoforte, Harry Schloming. violin, and Henry Finzi, violencello, will give a second concert at Chickering Hall on next Monday afternoon with the assistance of Miss Charlotte Walker and M. Felix Bour. The latter (who is the first oboist of Mr. Thomas's orchestra) will be heard in a polonaise for obce and pisnoforic by Chopin.

For the inauguration ceremonies of the new building of the Metropolitan Museum of Art on next Tuesday Mr. Joseph Mosenthal has composed the music t an ode written by Mr. James Herbert Morse. The quality of the music found approval at the concert of the Mendelssohn Glee Club last Tuesday evening. The verses are well adapted to music, and as they were written to be sung, perhaps this is as much as ought to be asked of them. They begin in this st

A WEDDING. Miss Anna F. Costigan and William O. Mills, son of S. B. Mills, the planist, were married last Monday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Costignan, of No. 64 Cottage-st., Jersey City Heights, by the Rev. Dr. Warren, of Holy Trinity Church. The bride was dressed in white faille and point lace, were a tulle veil and carried orange blossoms. The maid of honor, Miss Lilian Van Riper, wore white silk and point d'esprit. The wedding breakfast was served by Morrow & Day, and the ciaborate floral decorations were by Le Monuit. The presents were numerous and coulty. Mr. and Mrs. Mills have gone to Washington and other places of interest in the South.

CLOSE OF THE "RAINBOW RECEPTION." The "Rainbow Reception," given by the Loyal Legion Temperance Society" at Ortgies's Art Gallery, which closed last night, was a pronounced success both socially and financially. Mrs. Will's A. Barnes, the president, and her charming corps of assistants, who so generously devoted their time and services the fair, are to be congratulated upon the results which will enable them to make many happy hearts among the little cash boys who have been overcoked in part by other charitable associations. The ooths had lost none of their beauty last evening, booths had lost none of their beauty last evening, though many articles which had adorned them had been soid to the people who filled the rooms during the day and night. An interesting programme was arranged. "Mother Goose and Her Temperance Familys" was repeated three times, the Rev. Dr. Charles H. Stoddard's little daughter taking the principal part. The "Charcoal Art Talks" by P. Sun Yan, of China, artist of "The Chinese Evangelist," attracted many visitors, and among the neople present were the of China, artist of "The Chinese Evangerist," attracted many visitors, and among the people present were the Rev. Although the guests are bidden to each year there goes up a cry for early hours. It was midnight before the ball-room floor presented any. The debate marks an imp thing like the appearance of a successful dance. Supwas served, as usual, in the restaurant at 1 o'clock, and the cotillon began at a quarter after 2 | 111 few of the belles found themselves in their homes before 5 a. m. Tuesday.

The fresh beauty of the debutantes, the familiar faces of the "outs" of two or three years' standing and the still more mature but yet attractive young married belies, made it an interesting as well as brilliant affair. Miss Salile Hargous, overburdened with bouquets, wore white and silver with good effect. Indeed, the combination of the evening seemed to be white and silver. Miss Leiter, a most distinguished-looking girl of decided classic beauty, were an entire silver bodice with white skirts. The Misses Webb, daughters of General A. S. Webb, wore severely simple white costumes with glittering silver emproidery in Greefan dasign. Miss Fleaner, Due, we broldery in Grecian design. Miss Eleanor Duer was in vivid red crepe and moire ribbons, most becoming to her brunette coloring, while her sister, Miss Caroline Duer, was in a costume of almost rainbow tints, a peculiar mingling of gauze and satin.

Mrs. Karrick Riggs, in a gown of white and silver bro cade with a generous display of diamonds, was a much admired beauty of the evening, as was also Mrs. Leslie Cotton, formerly Miss Benedict, a recent bride. Mrs. Cotton is a brunette, with delicate features and lustrous eyes. Her gown was a simple one of white crepe with a corsage of mignoneite green. Miss Florence Hurst, a beautiful debutante of remarkably good carriage, were the typical blonds costume of blue. Miss Mabel Wright was brilliant in blue and silver brocade with white tulle skirts. In strong contrast to Miss Wright's blonde beauty was Miss Romaine Stone, a perfect brunette, who has ex-ceptional charms of face and manner, and easily stands in the front rank of beautiful women. own was a simple one of yellow crepe trimmed with sellow daisies, a single flower being placed in her conflure. Mrs. Arthur Dodge, her chaperone, was in an Empire dress of black satin and silver. Mrs. Henry lews were a striking costume of alternate stripes of white satin and gauze, across the front of which was a diagonal garland of pink roses and green leaves under a crystal-dotted tulle tablier. Her hair was dressed with a diadem of green leaves. Mrs. William D. Sloane wore white and silver, heavily garlanded with pink roses. Mrs. B. C. Porter was picturesque black costume glistening with silver stripes Mrs. Charles Hillhouse, formerly Miss Remsen, a bride of a month, chose a Quaker drab satin costume, the front of which was a mass of white dataies. Miss Amy Baker wore an effective gown of scarlet crope made in the Directoire fashlon, with a head-dress to match.

Enjoyable teas were given by Mrs. George R. Schieffelin on Tuesday for her daughter, Miss Margaret Schieffelin; on Wednesday by Mrs. Johnson for Miss Ethel Johnson, and by Mrs. Charles A. Minton for Miss Jennie Minton; and on Thursday by Mrs. H. W. Barnes for her granddaughter, Miss Martha Leavitt Leonard. Yesterday afternoon Mrs Herman Le Roy Jones, who was formerly Miss Kingsland, gave a large tea for her daughter, Miss Mary

A pretty "rosebud" german was given by Mrs. Walden Pell to introduce her daughter, Miss Lita Pell, who is a debutante of this year. About seventy-five of the young friends of Miss Lily King were present, including Miss Eleanor Duer, Miss Delaticid, Miss Wilmerding, Miss Smedburg, Miss Steward and Miss Schieffelin.

A sewing class, known as the Manhattan Sewing Class, has recently been organized by Mrs. Edward Lyman Short and Miss Lentilhon, to meet on Monday morning. Several neetings have already been held. Among the members are Mrs. Gerard Smyvesant, Mrs. Rufus Delafield, Mrs. George Freeman, Mrs. Rudolph Schaek, Mrs. Eugeno Kirdhand, Mrs. Felham Clinton, Miss Petit, Miss E. Lentilhon, Miss Louise Jackson, Miss Doremus, Miss Edith Hoadley, Miss Jackson, Miss Doremus, Miss Edith Hoadley, Miss Scott. Garments are made for charltable institutions.

Mrs. Austin Corbin, who has the James Gordon Bennett house at Fifth-ave, and Thirty-eighth-st., will have a dance for Miss Eleanor Deer on Thursday evening, December 27. About 200 people, chiefly of the young dancing set, will be asked.

There will be dancing, with muste by the Hungarian band, from 4 until 7 o'clock, also palmestry and legerdemain. A mediaeval room will be arranged for the sale of antique silver. The tickets at $1 each may be obtained from Miss C. Furniss, Mrs. E. J. Woelsey, Mrs. W. D. Sleane, Mrs. Elliott Roosevelt, Mrs. M. D. Collier, Mrs. William Robison, Miss Whitney, or at Delmonfeo's.

There has been a most encouraging sale of boxes for the Charity Ball. Mrs. Thomas Hitchcock, No. 8 East Twenty-minth-st., has a few left. Mrs. William Astor has promised to open the ball, which bids fair to excel any for years past.

The engagement has recently been announced of Miss Clara Gautier and Oliver W. Bird. Their mur-riage will take place soon.

ANDREW CARNEGIE ON SCOTTISH HOME RULE. To the Editor of The Tribune. Sir: Permit me to dissent from the position taken by your London correspondent and also from your own, as expressed in your short editorial of this morning in regard to the demand for a Scottish Home "G. W. S." states that influences at work to break up the British Empire multiply rapidly, and instances the movement for Home Rule in scotland as one of the influences. You comment upon this editorially, saying: "Is the British Empire to be dismembered? One of the signs of the times is the growth of the movement in Scotland in favor of Home Rule," etc.

Now, while it is certain that the people of Scotland are in favor of Scottish Home Rule to an extent which surprises me and which has surprised most Americans and Englishmen who have resided in Scot-land recently—and among the former none more than Mr. Blaine-still it is not less true that if the demand to have the local affairs of Scotland managed in Edinburgh could possibly weaken the union between Scotland and England, there would not be found any party in its favor. It is indeed a strange thing local affairs by each individual State a menace to the union of the parts which, when united, constitute

Your correspondent seems to be losing faith in the federal idea. I notice traces of this in his letters, but hitherto the editorial pages of The Tribune have seemingly maintained a different tone from him in this respect. Let me assure you that the Scottish Home Rule movement forebodes no attack upon the unity of the British Empire. The Empire is not to be dismembered by it. On the contrary it will, I believe, be greatly strengthened.

Count Herbert Bismarck apparently draws a distinction between the intended activity of a local force of this kind and other forces which are intended for expeditions into the interior. But it is doubtful whether the Arab mind will realize the difference.

EUSSO-GERMAN NEWSPAPER WAR-The attitude of the Russian and German press does not improve. The Hamburg "Correspondent's" article of Thursday on the relations between Germany. COUNT HERBERT BISMARCK'S MAIDEN SPEECH. Friday's debate in the Reichstag was memorable speech. The greatest interest was shown and more Deputies were present than on any other day during the session. The public galleries were also crowded. Among the notable persons present was Lieutenant Wissman. It was especially remarked that Count Herbert's speech occupied over thirty minutes. Herbert's voice, enunciation, gestures and abrupt delivery vividly reminded the audience of his father. At the beginning of the speech his remarks, though delivered in a loud tone, could scarcely be followed. Afterward he became calmer and more

It is stated that the authorities at Kiel and Wilhelms laven are preparing to send to Africa at the shortest a corps of volunteers armed with repeater and rifled cannon. Some of the Radical papers having asserted that Russia had supplied the Soudanese with arms and munifions, the Russian Ambaesador has assured Count Herbert Bismarck that such assertions are totally unfounded.

The list has a fashionable list of patronesses, most of whom will be present, and the ball promises to be successful and brilliant.

The occasion was the presence of a large deputation of the Epiphany, of which the Major is a member, headed by the pastor, the Rev. Dr. R. L. Burtsell, and accompanied by several priests. A large number of those interested in the proposed annex for women to Columbia College met in Professor Drisler's Greek lecture-room in Hamilton Hall, Columbia College, last night to hold their first public meeting and consider plans for further action. The meeting was called to order by Everett P. Wheeler, who suggested ex-Judge Noah Davis for chairman.

Upon assuming the chair, ex-Judge Davis called for a report of the work already accomplished, and Mrs. Annie Nathan Meyer, who has been the most energetic worker of the movement, responded. She said, The gentler sex had been ineffectually knocking at the

TO SEND WORKING GIRLS TO THE COUNTRY.

The fair which has been in progress for the last two days in the assembly rooms of the Metropolitan Opera Heuse, in aid of the Working Girls' Vacation Society, was brought to a close last evening. Success has rowned the efforts of those who have been conducting it, and it is estimated that several thousand dollars have been realized from the sale of all kinds of fancy articles. The lady members of All Souls' Church, of hurch, have, with their friends, done good service in managing the fair so successfully, and may well congratulate themselves and the society upon obtaining large an addition to the fund, which will be used next summer in furnishing free board in the country hundreds of deserving working girls. While the to hundreds of deserving worsing girls while the fair was going on last evening an unknown man walked to one of the tables and laid down a $10 bill, which he said he wished to contribute to the object for which the fair was held, and refused to tell who he was. Among those who have taken part in this enterprise are Mrs. Theodore C. Williams, wife of the paster of All Souls' Church; Mrs. James F. Drummond, Mrs. Percy R. King, Miss Marian Clermond and Mrs. William Herbert.

"SCIENTISTS" EXPELLED FROM THE CHURCH. Minneapolis, Dec. 15 (Special) .- Since the city wa startled, two years ago, by a woman keeping her dead child unburied in her house for several days, hoping to raise it from the dead by prayer, Minneapolis has heard little of what is known as Christian Science It is this doctrine, however, which now threatens the existence of the Northeast Baptist Church. some time the difficulty has been brewing, which culminated Thursday night in the dismissal from the church of some twenty-two members, a number of them being charter members. Joseph Pierce, one of those expelled, was a deacon, and had, perhaps, done more than any one else to build the church up. About three weeks ago a council of all the Baptist ministers in the city was called. The church agreed to abide by the council's decision. The council dereed that the "Scientists" must go. On Thursday night the final vote was taken, dismissing from the dellowship of the church all those who had been in the habit of attending the meetings of the Christian Scientists. One of those expelled said yesterday; "I have heard of expelling people from church for dancing, but I never heard of expelling people for being too orthodox."

Something you particularly want may be covered in one of those numerous short advertisements on the eighth and ninth pages of to-day's Tribune.

ONE DIVORCE CASE EVERY TEN MINUTES. Chicago, Dec. 15.-This was divorce case day to Judge Jameson's Court. The court was tired of the droning of lawyers over inconsequential details, so he took the matter of getting at the facts into his own hands, with the result that another record was beaten and a mark set for future judges to shoot at. In one hour the court had gone through thirty-five cases, of which six were tried—one every ten minutes.

DEATH OF JONATHAN LONGSTREET. Red Bank, N. J., Dec. 15 .- Jonathan Longstreet one of the oldest members of the Monmouth County Bar, died at his home in the town of Holmdel to-day He was born in the old Longstreet homestead, on May 22, 1828, and was graduated from Princeton College in 1850. He studied law under Judge Peter Vredenburgh, of Freehold, and John W. Fowler, of Pough-keepsie. He began the practice of law in Jersey City, but soon afterward removed to Freehold. He gave large sums to charitable institutions. Last summer he gave $10,000 for a law library building at Hights-
